

English Course Profiles

Course	Focus	Essays	Required Research
ENGL 1110G: Rhetoric & Composition  (4 credits)	College-level writing	4-5 essays and other writing tasks as assigned	Almost Always
Integrated CCDE 110 General Composition + Rhetoric and Composition  (8 credits) DI section prefix	Compressed instruction: Two eight-week courses  Integrated Reading and Writing  College-level writing	5-8 essays and/or other writing tasks as assigned	Sometimes  Second 8 weeks will be research- focused
CCDE 110: General Composition  (4 credits)	Integrated reading and writing	3-4 essays, and other writing tasks as assigned	Sometimes

Course Descriptions

ENGL 1110G: Students will analyze and evaluate written communication in terms of rhetorical situation, audience, context, purpose, and diverse points of view. Students will learn to write effective argumentative projects, integrate research from a variety of sources to support an argument, and correctly document research.

CCDE 110: Students will engage in active reading, critical thinking, and academic writing. Students will develop rhetorical awareness through reading and writing. Students write essays that demonstrate reading comprehension, focus, development, and clarity.